TRAINING ANNOUNCEMENT FOR FEBRUARY 11, 2010

The National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC), in partnership with the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) and the Sandy City Police Department, is offering a one-day training program, Protecting Our Children: A Comprehensive Training Program for Law Enforcement Professionals. This class has been scheduled for Thursday, February 11, 2010 from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the Sandy City Police Department, 10000 South Centennial Parkway, Sandy, Utah 84070. There is no cost for this training and both a continental breakfast and buffet lunch will be provided.

This course has been designed for civilian and commissioned law enforcement, federal, state, or county prosecutors, probation and correction officers, social services and CAC agencies. The purpose of this training is to present the dynamics of the crimes committed against children and provide effective prevention strategies.

Due to the sensitive nature of the material covered, this class is not designed for the general public. If you are a professional child advocate with a nonprofit organization, working directly with law enforcement, please have that agency email us a statement to that effect (rjohnston@ncmec.org), and note that contact on your behalf. Because of a limited class size, participants who register are required to attend. The agency of a no-show participant could be assessed the cost for the participant's materials and food service.

A training agenda outline and registration form is included with the enclosed (attached) brochure.

If you are interested in attending or sending officers from your department, please fill out the registration and fax or mail it back to the number or address provided.

Please register early! Space is limited and the class could fill up prior to the registration deadline, January 28, 2010.

We expect to have a full house, so we will confirm registrations by email until the class is full. Please provide an email address on the registration.

If you have questions or need further information, please feel free to contact myself or our Law Enforcement Training Coordinator directly at 913-469-5437.

Instructor - Craig Hill

Craig Hill is a 35-year law-enforcement veteran and retired Deputy Chief of Police from the Kansas City area. For more than 23 years, he has presented lectures on the crimes committed against children to communities, law enforcement, government agencies, colleges, and universities throughout the United States and parts of Canada. During his career, he has received numerous awards for his work on cases protecting children. These cases have included the recovery of 2 kidnapped children missing for 3 years and the recovery of a 12-year-old girl, found 6 years after she was abducted, using an age-progressed photograph. Mr. Hill attended the first White House Conference on Missing, Exploited, and Runaway Children and was invited to the Rose Garden for the signing of the PROTECT Act of 2003. Mr. Hill is a graduate from the 8th Session of the FBI Law Enforcement Executive Development Program, the 203rd Session of the FBI Academy, and the recipient of the FBI Director's Community Leadership Award (2007). In November 2005, he became the National Director of Crime Prevention Training for the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children, Kansas City Branch. Mr. Hill has dedicated his career to protecting children and his passion for this mission is evident from the training he presents.

National Center for Missing & Exploited Children
